

NOTICE OF COPYRIGHT POLICY

Unauthorized reproduction of copyrighted materials, whether by photocopying or otherwise, is illegal and strictly forbidden. It is a form of theft that results in loss of revenue to authors and publishers. Liability for damages to the copyright owner, as well as fines for copyright infringement, may extend to teachers, clerical staff, principals and any school system personnel responsible for establishing policies for the use of copy machines, including the superintendent and local school board.

All individuals working in the TCESC computer laboratory and producing materials to be hosted on the TCESC server and web site are required to comply with the provisions of federal copyright law. The law is intended to protect authors and composers from the unauthorized use of their copyrighted work. Under no circumstances may individuals violate copyright requirements.

I agree to comply with the copyright law and will not publish copyrighted materials on any web site hosted by the Trumbull County Educational Service Center.
